Re: UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations

Dear Vice Chancellor Wakimoto,

At its meeting on June 3, 2021, the Executive Board reviewed the proposed revisions to the UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations, and the responses of standing Senate committees (attached).

Members voted unanimously to endorse intent of proposal, but also to express concerns about issues raised by the proposal. Members agreed to a conditional approval contingent upon satisfactory a review of your response to the questions and concerns summarized below.

1. How is the university’s contribution calculated per the formula in Section A5? Members observed that university’s contribution is complicated to calculate, and the specific dollar amount is difficult to identify. Members recommended adding illustrative examples in the policy statement.

2. Has the institution considered scenarios in which UCLA will have limited involvement or no contributions (e.g. including facilitating only space) and the implications on IP revenue sharing?

3. What is the process by which, and the criteria for, the Vice Chancellor for Research to grant exceptions?

4. How does your office plan to change the institution to be more transparent and accountable in implementation of this policy?

5. Members expressed concern over section III. Statement A.2, “the Sponsor should not share in revenue arising from prior foundational IP that the Sponsor did not support.” What efforts will the university undertake to properly document prior IP in such agreements to protect the university from invalid claims?

We respectfully request a written response to this letter and the enclosed materials by the end of August 2021. As always, we appreciate the opportunity to advise your office on the crucial issues facing the campus and look forward to working with you to address them.

Sincerely,

Shane White

Re: Public Review for UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations

Dear Chair White,

At its meeting on May 12, 2021, the Council on Research (COR) had an opportunity to review UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations.

Members shared a few observations:

1. Has the institution considered scenarios in which UCLA will have limited involvement or no contributions (i.e. including facilitating only space and the implications on IP revenue sharing)?
2. The evident loophole is that the Vice Chancellor for Research can grant exceptions and the exception process is not clearly defined. Who makes decisions and under which conditions?
3. While members understand that the policy aims to introduce flexibility, it lacks transparency and accountability. How do we emphasize and motivate the institution to be more transparent?

Thank you for the opportunity to review and comment. If you have any questions for us, please do not hesitate to contact me at julianmartinez@mednet.ucla.edu or via the Council’s analyst, Elizabeth Feller, at efeller@senate.ucla.edu.

Re: UCLA Policy 956 Review

Dear Chair White,

At its meeting on April 28 2021, the Faculty Welfare Committee discussed the UCLA Policy 956. Committee members offered the following comments.

Members were in favor of having a formalized policy on IP revenue sharing. While they felt that the policy is necessary, they would appreciate further clarification on how the university’s contribution, as indicated in the formula in Section A5, is calculated. Members observed that university’s contribution is complicated to calculate, and the specific dollar amount is difficult to identify. The members suggested adding examples in the policy statement.

Finally, members indicated that it would be helpful to include a statement indicating why this policy is needed.

If you have any questions, please contact us via the Faculty Welfare Committee’s interim analyst, Elizabeth Feller, at efeller@senate.ucla.edu.

Sincerely,

Huiying Li, Chair

Re: Public Review for UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations

Dear Chair White,

At its meeting on May 3, 2021, the Council on Planning and Budget (CPB) had an opportunity to review UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations. Members offered the following comments.

Members expressed concern over section III. Statement A.2, “the Sponsor should not share in revenue arising from prior foundational IP that the Sponsor did not support.” Members underscored the need to properly document prior IP in such agreements to protect the university from invalid claims.

If you have any questions for us, please do not hesitate to contact me at groeling@comm.ucla.edu or via the Council’s analyst, Elizabeth Feller, at efeller@senate.ucla.edu.

Sincerely,

To: Deans, Directors, Department Chairs and Administrative Officers

The Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Creative Activities in collaboration with various stakeholders have developed UCLA Policy 956: IP Revenue Sharing with Not-for-Profit Nongovernmental Organizations. In accordance with UCLA Policy 100: Administrative Policies and Procedures, this new policy has been placed on the UCLA Administrative Policy website for a 30-day public review and comment period. Please encourage faculty and staff in your departments to review this new policy and submit comments via the webpage by May 7, 2021.

UCLA Policy 956 addresses issues that should be considered before UCLA accepts revenue-sharing terms in a Research Support agreement and applies to UCLA researchers, Schools, Office of Contracts and Grants Administration (OCGA), and the Technology Development Group (TDG).

Should you have any questions about the policy process, please contact Anna Joyce at ajoyce@conet.ucla.edu. Thank you for taking the time to review and provide feedback.

Sincerely,

Roger Wakimoto
Vice Chancellor for Research and Creative Activities
